ON THE STONEGRILL

Stonegrill meals are served uncooked on a natural volcanic stone heated to 400°C.

The result is a healthy, grilled meal cooked AT YOUR TABLE BY YOU, to your liking with a sensational taste. Each and every bite is as hot, juicy and tasty as the first. Stonegrill is recognised as one of the healthiest methods of cooking & is supported by the National Heart Foundation. Sensationally tender and delicious, unashamedly we declare it is the best steak you will ever eat!

WINE OR WHISKY WITH THAT ?

SCOTCH WHISKY

Our single malt regional selections

Glenkinchie, 12 years. (Lowlands region) $12.50 30ml

The whisky's from the lowlands are generally fresh, fragrant & floral. Certainly the most light bodied of the single malts. Glenkinchie is smooth & malty with a touch of peat.

Dalwhinnie, 15 years. (Highlands region) $12.50 30ml

The whisky's from the highlands vary significantly but they all share a dry character with notes of peat, smoke & saltiness. The Dalwhinnie Distillery in the central highlands produces a whisky which includes these characteristics but also has flavours of honey & vanilla.

Cragganmore, 12 years (Speyside region) $12.50 30ml

The River Spey cuts through this part of Scotland and many of the distilleries use water straight from the river in their production processes. The whisky's from speyside are known for their sweetness, elegant flavours & aromas. Cragganmore also features malt & soft smoke.

Talisker, 10 years (Island region) $11.50 30ml

The whisky from the inner Hebridean Scottish Isles are characterized by strong peaty & maritime aromas. Talisker features dried fruit sweetness, smoke & strong barley malt flavours. At the back of the mouth wait for an explosion of pepper.

Lagavulin, 16 years (Islay region) $14.00 30ml

Islay scotch is regarded as the smokiest & strongest flavoured of the single malts. Perhaps because of the region's exposure to the high winds & seas of the west coast. Lagavulin will fill your palate with dry peat smoke, sweetness followed by salt and touches of wood.
